Abhighty and invisible One! Thou,
The Ring of all the earth, and Thou whose hand.
Hath made the skins and trained the rolling spheres (foedlent, rea, as puppers, to Thy will,
Hear us, we implore Thee:
Thy Word hath said: 'Dissered is the nation who Calleth me her God?'—On turn Thine ear.
To her who bends so love before Thee.
In times of trouble she hath sought Thine aid,
Nor didst Thou hide at from her.
Thou hast spread her iand with plenty and filled
Her air with the sough of Peace.
Thou hast flushed her cheek with the glow of health, health,
And her young veins with the blood of Prosperity
Like rain on the purched earth so hast Thou

Thy goodness and mercy upon her.
And crowled her heart with gladuess.
And now, with upstretched hands she

Her swelling soul in gratitude to Thee.
Oh, heed her, we beseach!
